

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter presents the conclusions and suggestions drawn from the research. It also presents suggestions for teachers and students as well. This chapter is divided into two parts: conclusions and suggestions.

1.1 Conclusion

From the result of the study, the researcher would like to present the conclusion of the study. The tenth grade students of SMK YPSEI Palangka Raya still have a common problem in grammar especially in simple present tense.

1. From the analysis the researcher found that the most of the significance errors of descriptive text is in using tenses of “simple present tense” because of almost of them did not understand enough about tenses, the kind of tenses and how apply them on the sentences.
2. The errors made by students because they still did not understand enough about tenses and how to use tenses of “ simple presents tense” well in writing descriptive text. They did not have enough vocabulary to write a descriptive text and the last reason they were too hurried and careless to finish their task.

1.2 Suggestion

After the researcher did the whole research, there are some suggestions as follows:

1. In teaching and learning process, the English teacher should minimize the error by giving more practice and giving feedback to the students, the students can learn more how to write a good descriptive text that can acceptable and readable.
2. For the students, they should more detail how to write a good sentence in using simple present tense and they should practice more in constructing sentences, especially descriptive text.
3. For the next researcher who want to conduct the research with the same topic, it is suggested to add more sample and the next researcher hope to improve the instrument.
